

The cold, icy snow crunched ^{neath} underneath her ~~feet~~ feet as she finished the last of her christmas shopping.

~~She~~ She heard the faint sound of carol singers from behind her, but ^{she} was in too much of a hurry to stop and listen to them.

It was 10pm on christmas eve. She'd ~~forgoten~~ forgotten to ~~buy~~ ^{buy} her cat a christmas present, so she had gone out to buy ~~her~~ ^{him} one. She had brought her cat some of his favourite treats and a cat toy.

As she walked ^{back} home in the ~~very~~ cold snow, she only thought about one thing, her black cat curled up by the fire.

After a ^{long} windy and icy walk home from town, she ^{finally} reached her house. She walked in, wrapped her cat's christmas present and put it under the tree. ~~She then sat down~~ before she sat down next to her cat by the fire.